A. A. Hall, head of the Automotive Supply Company, and former treasurer of the Gordon Street Baptist church, Tuesday was indicted for embezzlement, a true bill returned by the Fulton grand jury alleging that he appropriated for his own use $2,034.32 of the church's funds.

3 Months' Delay in Highway Program Predicted by Tate tracts to the extent of half a million dollars toward the end of January, and a similar amount the latter part of February. However, we are not going to award any control of the portion of our old debt that is now pressing.

The state highway board will not award any contracts until it has paid its outstanding obligations, Colonel Sam Tate, director, declared Tuesday in a statement forecasting a delay of three months or longer in the highway program of 1930 as the re-

"If we can reach an agreement with the federal government whereby we will be allowed to match federal aid funds as we do the work, the action of the banks will not hurt us in the long run. The effect of it is that it will not permit the immediate steps we had hoped to take if the loan went through."

Colonel Tate estimated the total Do Your

Colonel Tate estimated the total revenue of the department in 1930 from state sources at $14,180,000, of which $9,480,000 will be derived from the gasoline tax and $4,700,000 from the sale of motor vehicle licenses. The estimate, he said, was "fairly conservative." It is a million or more dollars un-der estimates from other sources, which believe that $10,000,000 will be derived from the gasoline tax and $5,000,000 from the sale of licenses, Disbursements will include $3,000,000 for maintenance and $500,000 for administration, which, with the debt of $3,792,547.35 to be paid out without actual veed constraints.

of $3.792,547.35 will make $7,292,547.35 to be paid out without actual road construction.

The deduction of that sum will leave a balance of $6,887,000 or more for construction. In addition $10,000,000 of federal aid funds are available to make the total $10,887,000 or more for construction purposes.

Colonel Tate also called attention to the bill now before congress, proposing an addition of $50,000,000 to the present state allotments for federal road construction. "If this measure passes Georgia's pro rata share will be about $1,500,000," he said. "But until all of our debts are paid this will not mean anything to the state, because that sum will be for use on federal highways, and if matched will absorb most of our balance that otherwise would go to the state roads."

Suits Will Be Filed To Compel Immediate Action by City, Belief at City Hall.

Fear that failure of the Atlanta city council to select an engineer Monday to conduct a comprehensive survey of Atlanta and its environs, with a view of relieving several sewage nuisances which constitute health menaces, may delay the studies to such a degree that suits will be filed compelling the city to take immediate action was expressed Tuesday at the city hall.

At least two communities already have served notice that court action will be sought to force the city to abate conditions which are health menaces unless immediate relief is afforded, and they unquestionably will appeal to the law in an effort to protect their property and their lives.

City Attorney James L. Mayson has ruled that the city is liable for such conditions and that the law will force it to take immediate relief measures.

TEN OPPORTUNITIES

Forsyth street, opposite the city hall, or through the lobby of the Palmer building by elevator.

C. F. Palmer is president of the Blue Boar and J. H. Thones is secretary and treasurer. Mr. Nix has been in the restaurant business here for 10 years, and is president of the restaurant men's association. The Blue Boar opened last February. It is an attractive site for a luncheon chat with a friend or two. The cafe-teria brings to mind those quaint old English inns where the lovers of good food gathered.

Following the Ten Opportuni-ties automobile parade Tuesday morning, bids on the seven used cars offered at auction for the benefit of the Opportunity fund began to pick up with such force that at the end of the day close to $300 had been bid on the seven automobiles.

The highest bid of the day was one of $100 on the Nash sedan, offered by Kenneth Rogers, of 296 Southerland drive, N. E. Others of the Opportunity cars re-ceived fair bids, but nowhere near their value.

Those who saw the parade Tuesday realize that the cars are in good running order and are in tip-top shape. Only the Reo touring car failed to start in the parade. Some person locked the transmission of the Reo and took the key away, so that when the driver tried to move the car Tuesday, the gears would not op-erate. Mechanics cut away the lock in an effort to allow the car to get in the parade, but the process took too long. The result was that one of the most valuable and most impressive of the Op-portunity cars did not parade down Peachtree. You can see the car at D. C. Black's place at 330 Peachtree street, however, and judge for yourself as to its

"As superintendent of schools," he wrote, "I realize that there are hundreds and hundreds of peo-ple in need and whose needs should be supplied by the gen-erous and well-to-do people of our city. "I wish to commend this work and to appeal to the citizens of Atlanta to respond to this most helpful cause."

WELFARE SOCIETY WORK HAMPERED.

Ten of the direct cases of poverty in Atlanta were selected by the Family Welfare Society, of 53 1-2 Auburn avenue, to be the recipients of your munificence during 1930. These families are poor—"wolf-at-the-door" poor. poor—"wolf-at-the-door" poor. They have no hope from any other source. The Community Chest did not realize all that it expected to for its 1930 work, and therefore the budget of the welfare society is crippled.

Only from you can these 10 poor families receive what will e a God-send to them. They have no other source of income, except for the dole that the cramped budget of the welfare society allows. They receive a little coal and a few groceries through the city warden's office. But there is the rent to pay. Sick persons must have special diets, or they will not regain their health so that they will be able to become breadwinners again.

So, it's up to you! If you will "come across," these families will have a fair chance to get back on their feet. They are not common street beggars, or mendicants preying upon the public's sympa-thy. Each case has been investigated and every person your money will help is vouched for by the Family Welfare Society. If you so desire, a report of the good that your money does will be furnished to you by the his automobile struck the machine of Mrs. L. H. Adams, of 866 South Pryor street, which was parked near her residence. Proceeding, Coleman had gone but a short distance when his car collided with a truck driven by W. C. Phileger, of 223 Garnett street. According to witnesses, the truck got the worst of it. Coleman sped on, according to witnesses, until he struck a parked machine, the property of R. E. Adkinson, of East Point.

The third crash stopped Coleman's machine. Sensing exceptions to his tour, Coleman is said to have fled down Pryor street pursued by several persons attracted by the accident. One of them, Oren Molstead, of 814 South Pryor street overhauled him, Patrolmen O. B. Andrews and L. Pope carried him to police headquarters, where he was docketed on charges of drunkeuness, operating an automobile while intoxicated and leaving the drunkenness, operating an automobi while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Every motor humming the sweet tune of charity, every spick and span body shining with the glow of pleasure at the good they will do all during 1930, the "Ten Opportunities" automobiles donated by D. C. Black, Buick-dealer, paraded the busy Christmas shopping district Tuesday just before noon while thousands watched from the sidewalks. Headed by a police motorcycle escort furnished by Chief Beavers, the automobiles attracted such a lively interest that bidding became spirited with from three to ten bids being received Tuesday on every one of the seven cars. Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, issued a statement in which he delared that "if the federal government made as large a mistake in estimating the crop of other states as it has in Georgia, the estimate for the whole crop is over a million bales too high."

The commissioner said his department reported 1,095,543 bales ginned to December 15. with 126,912 bales left to be ginned, making a total of 1,221,465 bales. The federal figures on the other hand, reported 1,177,390 bales ginned to December 1, with the total including cotton to be ginned placed at 1,345,000 bales.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 17 .-(A)-The Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce stands ready to answer any questions the county school board desires to ask in its investigation into the matter of 27 Andrew Jackson High school girls being allowed to go to the terminal station here two weeks ago to greet the University of Oregon football team. B. D. Fincanon, president of the junior organization, said today that body would be glad to give the school authorities any information sought. The board yesterday ordered an in-vestigation and decreed that an ex-ecutive session be held Thursday in an effort to determine why the girls were allowed to leave school for the greeting trip and who picked the delegation.

"The girls would not have been out of school at all if the train had been on time," Mr. Fincannon said today.
"They would have been back in their classes by 9:30 o'clock.'

"During all the time the girls were out of school they were properly chaperoned by older men and women who were members of the reception committee," Mr. Fincannon added.

who were members of the reception committee." Mr. Fincannon added. "The girls were selected from Andrew Jackson High school because their school played the Eugene (Oregon) High school team in the national basketball championship at Chicago twol years ago.

"All along the journey the Oregon team was entertained at banquets by various women's clubs. We hit upon the idea of having the high school girls as members of the greeting party and the players and faculty members were loud in their praise of the greeting given them by the committee and the girls." Mr. Fincannon said.

Mrs. F. C. Jones, one of the chaperons of the girls, today made personal calls on mothers of the girls and asked them to sign a slip to the efsoual calls on mothers of the girls and nsked them to sign a slip to the effect that the girls went on the greeting party with full permission.

Twenty-five of the 27 mothers had signed the statement today, and both of the remaining two had promised to sign it as soon as it was presented to them. Mrs. Jones reported.

"I don't know whether the girls had official permission to be absent from their classes, but I do know that they had their parents' consent.

that they had their parents' consent, and that none of their parents regret having given that consent," Mrs. Jones declared.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 .- (United WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(United News.) — Congressional agricultural leaders were disturbed and puzzled today over intimations that the federal farm board has changed its "cheap money" policy for the farmer, regarded as one of the basic principles of President Hoover's relief policy.

Solicitor Garrett today said the new angle had developed last week in the grand jury investigation of perjury charges which James W. Schell, junior counsellor for the condemned youth, brought against T. S. Martin, of Forsyth, Ga.

Stating that he had withheld the information from publication pending developments in connection with other rumored statements of Manchester, the solicitor said, "Now that Manchester has come out with a flat denial of the murder, implicating himself as only an accessory after the fact, I think the public should know all the details."

Manchester, Solicitor Garrett said, at that time denied all of the "rumors;" denied that he had told any one that Mrs. Powers killed Parks; and said that the statement made by him on the trial of his case last June "was the whole truth."

Denied Rumors.

"That was only a week ago," Mr. Garrett said. "I asked him all about the rumors I had heard concerning the murder in the apartment, and questioned him, too, about his former story as to his own connection. He said none of the rumors about his changing his statement were true, and reiterated to the entire grand jury that his statement at the trial was absolutely the whole truth; that the murder was committed near the river bank where the body of Parks was found on the morning of May 28."

Mr. Garrett said he had never doubted the theory that the murder was committed in the apartment of Mrs. Powers, and the body redressed and taken to the scene where it was found, but he discounts the story told to R. D. Fengin, his senior counsel, that another man fired the shot.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.-(A)-New man-hunt for Fred Burke, reputed desperado, after Coroner Herman N. Bundesen, of Cook county, made tentative identification of bullets fixed from a machine gun found in the Burke Michigan bungalow as similar to those found in the bodies of seven Moran gangsters who were massacred in a Chicago garage L. The bullets were sent to Major Calvin C. Goddard, ballistics expert, for microscopic examination.

Two machine guns were found in the Burke hide-out after he was alleged to have shot and killed Policeman Charles Skelly in St. Joseph, Mich., last Saturday. Markings on the bullets of one gun were not visible to the naked eye. Bullets from the other, however, bore ridges believed to be caused by slight jamining.

How Matters Political Are Showing in the Horoscope of 1930.

Things are shaping so as to insure the people oodles of personal and party politics next year. Although it is to be what the politicians call an "off-year," which

A Couple of Plausibles.
One of my Washington correspond ents reports a suspicion that the send-ing to the senate, after his London naval conference service, of Dwight Morrow, present ambassador to Mexico, is to put in the senate and in the immediate public eye an understudy for the Hoover job, in the event that the president finds a renomination improbable.

That sounds plausible to politicious who know that the transfer of the control of the cians who know that "anything can happen" in the political game, but it assumes that Hoover will be unable to use the generally accredited power to use the generally accredited power of any president to work up his own renomination.

The other plausible guess is that the anti-Hooverites in the party are hop-ing that ex-President Coolidge will come to the senate from Massachu-setts and be available for another presidential candidacy, either to stop Hoover's career or to save the party ship from foundering in the stormy waters that may possibly assail the Hoover regime and policies.

Hoover Should Hold His Own. Hoover Should Hold His Own.

It is my opinion that Hoover should be able to hold his own and get an easy renomination—if he should want it, and I think he will. In less than a year in the office he has learned that a four-year term is too short a time in which to establish any essential and permanent policy of national administration. He has some very definite lines of rolley of government. strong undertow against a renomina-tion of Hoover in 1932.

If the democrats should win the If the democrats should win the house next November, and shall have improved their power in the senate without having captured it also, there is sure to arise among the republicans a determined movement to replace Hoover. Should the house be lost to the party the turnover will be charged definite lines of policy, of governmen-tal reforms, and of international rela-tions, that he wishes to have adopted the party the turnover will be charged to Hoover and the political captains will begin the hunt for a new Richmond to call into the field to try for a recouping victory in 1932.

There are many willing Barkises in the party camp. I know half a dozen of them, each of whom is completely convinced that he is the most eligible person to take the presidential candidacy in 1932 and reverse any threatby the people for their own good.
But in order to "sell" his ideas to the people he needs time to convince them and then time for them to elect congresses that will co-operate with him under popular mandates.

Personally, I don't believe a renomination given or denied, would ruffle him up or down, but now that he is on the presidential job he wants to make his work of high value and permanency.

The Democrats Are Wide-Awake. Meantime, the democrats are not sleep-ing at the switch. They are wide-awake and watching warily to ditch It would serve nothing to name those ambitious gentlemen here and now. Some of them are on the see-saw in their states and the polling the political express trains of the republicans. They have no special grouch against Hoover personally, but they look upon him as inept in the presidential office and upon his party next year will determine whether they are to rids wide and handsome longer in the national rodeo, or will limp back into the huddle of discarded as incapable of serving the masse the people with impartiality and patriotism.

The democratic leaders are not just lame ducks.

Most of the men I have in mind Most of the men I have in mind are western men. It is generally taken for granted in Washington that it will be a long time before another eastern man gets at the head of the republican national ticket. And, of course, no southern republican would have a ghost of a show to do so. It is slated that the candidate will be taken from the middle, or the great west, preferably from the latter, because there is no "big republican" it royal. now bothering their brains about who ought and who ought not to be their nominee for president in 1932. There is plenty of time yet for that. What interests them is to discover the policies that will-best serve the pressing wants of the people and cast them into definite issues with which to challenge the republicans to a battle

BIRMINGHAM - ATLANTA HIGHWAY PAVING URGED

Bankhead Association Goes on Record as Favoring Immediate Start of Work.

ANNISTON, Ala., Dec. 17 .- (Special.) — The Birmingham-Atlanta Bankhead Highway Association today went on record as favoring the immediate paving of the segment of the road lying between Birmingham and Atlanta, funds to be provided if necessary through the issuance of warrants by the counties traversed by the Bankhead highway. John S. Turney, Alabama highway commissioner, outlined the plan by which other counties have loaned the state funds to build roads, the moneys later being returned by the state. A permanent organization to seek immediate action on the project was perfected with L. B. Liles, Anniston, as chairman; J. R. Hutcheson, Douglasville, vice chairman, and Charles F. Varn, Anniston, secretary-treasurer. Directors from each town along the Bankhead highway also were appointed.

Speakers at the meeting pointed out that the Bankhead highway is a federal aid project, and that every dollar spent on improvement would be matched by the United States government. Mayor Sidney J. Reaves, Anniston; A. V. Howle, Tallapoosa, Ga.: Georgia Senators J. J. Mangham and Hutcheson, Calhoun county commissioners, E. M. Moss and J. M. Wood; Fred Osborne, Heflin, and other prominent civic leaders and good road advocates urged that the Georgia and Alabama highway commissioners and the various county commissioners be the various county commissioners interviewed at once and convinced practicability of paving the road

Chairman Liles, also chairman the good roads committee of the Anniston Chamber of Commerce, pointed to the fact that the Bankhead highway is a national coast-to-coast route; is 40 miles shorter between Atlanta and Birmingham than any other route; links two government military posts at Atlanta and Anniston, and will serve a large territory between the south's large cities, in his talk which opened the discussion.

Commissioner Turney stated during the meeting that the federal and state engineers would not consider paving the lower route through Carrollton which has been agitated, as it is 18 miles longer and as that part of the road would not receive federal aid.

Part of the Georgia highway program for 1930, as announced by Chairman Sam Tate some time ago, is the hard-surfacing of the route to the Alabama line, via Austell, Lithia Springs, Douglasville, Villa Rica, Bremen, Waco and Tallapoosa.

the University of Washington here. The quake started about 3:07 a.m., Pacific coast time. The presumption that the disturb-ance was in the general direction of Alaska was supported not only by seismographic records, but by recent reports of seamen and United States coast and geological survey officials that they had witnessed terrific eruptions of volcances along the south coast of the Alaskan peninsulas. These eruptions, reports said, came from at least seven mountains and shot flame and lava hundreds of feet into the air.

Volcanic activity in Alaska usually is accompanied by heavy earth shocks which might be destructive except for the fact that most of the region affected is inhabited only by a few scattering tribes of Indians. Much of the area is uncharted and the coast line in places has changed materially in the last century. Fire islands, for instance, appeared above the water in 1883 and Bogoslof island emerged in 1896.

"TICKLETOES"

Is the Idol of Every Little Doll Mother Who

Sees Her and THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION Offers Her

for Only 2 New Subscribers to the Daily and Sunday Constitution

And, Girls, the wonderful part about this offer is, that money is not required. You don't need a single penny to get "Tickletoes." She is given for just a small task that won't be a bit hard for any of you or take but little of your time. Ask some of your grown-up friends to help you, and it won't take long at all. You'll have the two subscriptions before you know it, and then "Tickletoes" is yours absolutely free. This is positively all there is to it. Hundreds of other little girls have won her and you can, too.

All the little girls who have seen "Tickletoes" can't resist loving her, and naturally they would love her because she is so life-like, and what little girl doesn't love a real live baby? She does all the things that every tiny baby does—sucks her thumb—clasps her hands—rolls her eyes—goes to sleep—sits up—cries—holds her bottle—and does many other darling pranks.

She is the happiest doll you ever saw, dressed elegantly in pink organdy with real stockings, cute little moccasins, rubber panties and a darling cap with lace ribbons on it. Her legs and arms are of rubber and her soft little toes and fingers are just like a real live baby's. She is unbreakable and has three different voices and is 21 inches tall—just about as long as this newspaper page.

NOTE: Only two new six-month subscriptions will be required in the city of Atlanta and nearby suburbs when the doll is delivered to the winner at the office of The Constitution. Those living outside of Atlanta and suburbs, where the doll has to be sent by parcel post or express, on account of extra expenses for packing, shipping and carrying charges, three subscriptions will be required.

Marguerite Hestley, 781A Primrose avenue, 11 years old, and a pupil of Hoke Smith Junior High school, expresses her delight at winning "Tickletoes" by a happy smile that she just couldn't hold back when The Constitution presented her with "Tickletoes."

Little Mary Catherine Rainwater, 4 years old, 26 Davis circle, Atlanta, is happy to be mamma of "Tickletoes." Mary Catherine is one of the many hundreds of little girls who have taken advantage of The Constitution's offer.

You get THIS COFFEE the same week it is roasted ... at the peak of its flavor ... full strength ...

Two deliveries a week of.
this freshly roasted coffee
...not a can of it remains in your grocer's store more than one week

THE EXTRAORDINARILY FINE FLAVOR and teasing aroma of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee make it a favorite in the cuisines of clubs, restaurants and dining services especially successful in catering to men. To insure its original strength and freshly roasted flavor when it reaches you, this coffee is delivered by a "fresh food" service which makes it impossible for a can of it to remain in your grocer's store more than one week. The date stamped on each can of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee is a promise of the full, aromatic flavor you will enjoy when you sip your cup of this unusual coffee with its exquisite "bouquet".

HEN your favorite blend of coffee tastes extra good it's because it's extra fresh. There's nothing to compare with the flavor of freshly roasted coffee unless perhaps it is bread fresh from the oven.

"I'd like to have my coffee that way every time," you said, and Chase & Sanborn have made it possible.

For this fine, balanced blend of coffee, the favorite in exacting New England and the Middle West for 65 years, is now delivered in the same way that fresh yeast is delivered—by the Daily Delivery Service of "Standard Brands, Inc.," whose clean, new, green motor trucks you see every day going busily from grocery store to grocery store, delivering Fleischmann's Yeast and Chase & Sanborn's Coffee.

Straight from the great ovens kept continuously warm and fragrant with the roasting of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee, your grocer, wherever he is, gets two deliveries regularly every week. This eliminates all storage of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee, for your grocer gets it in just the amounts he expects to sell before the next delivery, and not a can of it remains in his store more than one week.

You need never again be disappointed at the weakness, or the flatness of your coffee, for Chase & Sanborn's is in the fresh food class—the only coffee rushed to you—as bread, Fleischmann's Yeast, and milk are rushed—to reach you while its flavor is at its best.

Look at your can of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee. Read the date stamped on its blue band—this is your assurance of the unusual freshness of this coffee—golden brown and fragrant from the roaster, ready at the touch of boiling water to release its goodness to your cup... full strength, at the peak of its flavor.

"Nine years ago when my little girl was born dead, I seemed to lose every bit of strength and vitality. I had an awful pulling down feeling in my back and my legs were so stiff I could hardly walk. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about four months. The next year I became the mother of a fine 11pound baby boy. After he was born, I kept on with the medicine to build me up. About four months ago I became very nervous and rundown and suffered from other troubles which I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable would relieve so I started taking it and now I feel fine again. Many of my friends could write a book on the good the Vegetable Compound has done them."—Mrs. W. Overmann.

The only reference to the matter was made at the annual banquet when Rev. Father R. T. Bryant, of Spring-hill college, Mobile, denounced the rumored division and said "the S. I. A. At present, the members were asked to offer suggestions as to remedies for certain existing athletic conditions. The answers to the questionnaire and the report sof the district meetings will be forwarded to the executive committee which, after a thorough study of them, will present recommendations to the association at the next meetings with a view of setting definite athletic policy rules.

In the opinion of Dr. J. W. Provine, of Mississippi college, Clinton, Miss., president of the association. passage of his recommendation marked "the best piece of work done in many years to establish mutual confidence within the association."

Howard To Play Alabama Eleven

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. Dec. 17.—

(P)—Ten games, one with a Southern conference opponent, and six with S. I. A. A. members, compose the 1930 football schedule of Howard College, announced here today. Alabama replaces Auburn in the Southern conference opposition while Millsaps, Mercer and Mississippi College are dropped in the S. I. A. A.

The schedule:

September 19—Marion Institute. Birming-lam.

September 27.—Alabama at Tuscalossa.

Florida's football forces have been assigned another difficult gridiron program for 1930. If anything, the 'Gators will face an even stronger array than in the past campaign.

BEST OF ENEMIES MUST PART.

These are days of rupture and reorganization of the southern gridiron family. Scarcely a football schedule is announced but bares a severance of an old athletic rivalry.

Ancient enemies seem to be rushing to the postoffice to mail each other a Christmas card in a delicate shade of pink.

Kentucky and Centre college, gridiron rivals since Daniel Boone killed out the bears and made the country safe for brush salesmen, will not meet in 1930.

Georgia Tech and Alabama parted company, so to speak, after years of profitable pigskin relations, for one reason and another.

By Roy White.

Ted Goodrich added another victory to his record Tuesday night that a well earned decision over Clyde Hull, the rough and rugged battler from Fort Worth, Texas. The fight went 100 rounds to a decision and was the main attraction of the second program to be held under the auspices of the American Legion, and was witnessed by a large crowd.

Goodrich was the aggressor in a majority of the rounds. Hull bored into Goodrich with everything he had in the third and gave the Atlantan several severe punches in the stomach. Goodrich appeared considerably weak-ened at the end of the round but came back strong in the next stanza.

Hull took more punishment Tuesday night than he has taken in a long time and Goodrich hit him with a were sent with effectiveness. Goodrich pounded Hull in the first and second round and the Texas battler appeared groggy. Hull took a hard right to the chin in the first round and went to the canvass but quickly recovered.

The third round and the tenth were one reason and another.

Vanderbilt and Sewanee, oldest of Dixie gridiron rivals, exchanged notices of discontinuance, couched in rather cold terms. Confidential advices are that one or two other pairs are about to file suits for divorce. All this swapping of partners results from changing and con-flicting interests and will result in fresh new faces on several

ANOTHER BIG YEAR AHEAD.

Meanwhile Tech and Georgia pursue their series of games in perfect harmony; Florida and Tennessee resume their games with eagerness; the northern section of the conference is keeping quietly within the old lines; and prospets are bright for another great season in 1930.

MANY GO VISITING.

The intersectional program next year, even in an incomplete state of development, promises more interesting games than Georgia Tech plays Carnegie Tech and Pennsylvania; Georgia plays Yale and New York University; Tulane plays Northwestern; Florida plays Chicago; Vanderbilt plays Minnesota, and several others that escape memory just now.

For a time there was a hue and cry against an intersectional policy down our way. But such games now appear advisable in creating cordial relations and a better understanding between the sections. Our football teams have learned a great deal of football, too, by meeting teams from other sections. All in all, it is a fine idea.

HIGHER EDUCATION NEEDED.

Dr. S. V. Sanford told a tale of night football and jersey numbers at the football banquet in Athens. He attended a night football game in Greenville when Furman played Erskine, and was seated next to two Greenville citizens.

The Furman team wore Roman numerals—XII, XIX, VII-and as play went on the queer characters became highly confusing under the electric lights.

"Who made that run, Deery?" asked one Greenville man.

"I can't tell," complained the other. "Can't you see the numbers?"

"Yes, but I ain't got a Ph.D."

HOW COME, ANYHOW? Which reminds me that I let a whole football season go by and never thought to ask Coach Dad Amis why he used those Roman numerals. That always will remain the mystery of the 1929 season.

Carl Bowles and Norman Wrigley send in the following want ad clipped from The Constitution: "WANTED-To borrow $1,000,000 at 8 per cent, payable $50 a month, to consolidate all debts."

Whether there is a concealed bomb in that last proposal I have not yet decided.

In the fifth round Hull had one good chance to win the fight. He landed several good punches in Goodrich's midsection and also on the head, but failed to follow up his blows.

Goodrich had an edge in the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth rounds, but these rounds were nothing to write home about. There was little real fighting, with numerous clinches. A check of the number of "hugs" revealed that an average of 14 in each of the last four rounds were recorded.

Dixie football fans learned, during the season just closed, to watch for the exploits of famous pairs of half-backs in the south. Their exploits were known and feared.

At the Flats were Stumpy Thomason, the Mighty Atom, and his gallant running mate. Warner Mizell.

Three great pairs to draw to—those three. They represent six of the greatest halfbacks the south has ever seen. That sextet can do everything—run, kick, pass, block and receive passes.

They will appear in the All-Star game scaeduled for Grant field on New Year's Day when the sectional teams of the conference, the north and the south. meet for the benefit of the crippled children's hospital of the south.

There are other fine halfbacks coming—Jim Magner from North Caralina, Paul McGaughey from Vanderbilt, and others from over the south, will be here for the game. McEver and Hackman make up the pairs who will appear on the northern team. The other four will run for the southern team.

The halfbacks alone make up a show worth seeing. Never before has such a glittering array of football stars been gathered for a game. OTHER STARS.

With them will come the star ends, guards, tackles, fullbacks, quarters and centers—each playing the game because they are strong and well and because they are strong and well and because that fact makes them interested in those who aren't. There will be many a young leg straightened, many a young back made strong; there will be club feet restored to normal—these and other miracles will be wrought by the money paid to see the Dixie football stars in action on New Year's Day. The players will receive some memento of the game—nothing more. They are coming because they feel that they, being strong, owe something to those who are weak.

The spectators got to see three minutes and twenty seconds of a twelve-round fight because Von Porat fouled Scott. Whether hurt Scott to any great extent is another argument, but the foul popped out anyway.

The boys who pay the tax at the gate are doing much muttering over these melancholy instances, but they will probably take it out in mutter-ing. The allotted space for punching between the waist or belt and the top of the head or ears would seem to offer a pretty healthy target to aim at. A fairly accurate puncher ought to be able to keep his volleys in this range. But apparently the space of three feet or more is not large enough for our modern snipers. About the time you get comfortably seated, some for our modern snipers. About the time you get comfortably seated, some one turns on a foul and the show is over. What type of foul-strike rule would work for boxing? The first step would be to relieve the offender of his share of the purse. That might be enough to make fouling extremely unpopular on the part of the fighter. It is also extremely unpopular on the part of the spectators who pay to see something at least approaching a contest.

Several of the Yankees' newcomers are considered probable regulars. Dusty Cooke, who batted .358 for St. Paul last season, is the leading candidate for the left field berth left vacant by Meusel's departure.

The four young pitchers have excellent records. Gomez, a southpaw who cost the Yanks $35,000, won 18 and lost 11 for San Francisco last season. McEvoy won 22 and lost 12 for Oakland. Andrews won 10 and lost 8 for Mobile's losing team and won 9 and lost but 1 for the Albany Eastern league champions. Polli won 22 and lost 9 for St. Paul.

The same Alexander who did not lose a game for Georgia Tech last year lost six games this fall. He lost them when Lumpkin, Pund and two or three other stars happened to pass out of the picture. Neither Columbia nor Princeton had the material this season for winning teams. Both lacked team speed—the fast moving type of athlete who can get around in a hurry. Notre Dame had the greatest all-around team speed of the country, which means a greater number of faster moving football players. Pittsburgh wasn't far away. Both gave the appearance of sending eleven halfbacks into action. Notre Dame has averaged more all-around speed than any team in the country, year after year, and you can bank on a fast moving Notre Dame team next year—line, ends and backs.

L. H. P. and H. F. 1. Western Maryland's record speaks for itself. Any team that can win eleven consecutive games in one season is covering a lot of ground in a hurry—especially when Georgetown and a late season Maryland team are included. Concerning how Western Maryland would have fared against Pittsburgh or Notre Dame, who knows? 2. No question about the coaching ability of Jock Sutherland, of Pittsburgh. He has lost two games in three years, which is the same record Zuppke has at Illinois. Both have had to face fard competition most of the route. Sutherland is one of the masters of ound fundamental instruction and United News Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(United Press.)—The Army football players packed their kits tonight for the long railroad trip to California which begins tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Driven indoors again today by wretched weather conditions the Army squad lost its last chance for a workout at West Point prior to leaving for Palo Alto, where the Cadets will meet Stanford on December 28.

JONES LECTURES ROYS

JONES LECTURES BOYS.

Retiring Coach Biff Jones took the squad indoors and lectured them on new plays. Three stops will be made en route, at Galesburg, Ill, Syracuse, Kan., and Needles, Cal., where one hour practice sessions are scheduled. One hundred and ten players will make the trip, including not only the varsity squad but selected players from the scrubs and plebes. The latter are being taken as a reward for their service during the practice season and to give Major Sasse, who takes over the Army eleven next season, a chance for extra work with the newcomers.

SPECIAL TRAIN. A train of 13 coaches, elaborately equipped, will carry the Cadets west. The train will consist of six pullmans, two dining cars, two baggage cars, an observation car and two specially-equipped cars, one fitted out as a dressing room and the other for show-er baths.

Half a freight carload of spring water will be taken along for the Army players to drink and no other water will be used by the players during the journey.

Lack of Intersectional Game Brings Forth Objection From Team's Supporters.

Up at Knoxville, Tenn-O-See, where Major Bob Neyland accomplished the miracle of bringing the Volunteers out of the overall and button shoe class to the dinner coat and demi tasse circles, they are a-grieving in the gloaming, oh, my darling, when the lights are low.

They are a-writing epistles to the newspapers and asking why the Vols, the great Volunteers, are not permitted to feed upon an intersectional foe next fall. And the letters are not polite. Oh, no. The Vols, for many years, were just eleven big boys trying to get along. They went nowhere each year and in a very great hurry. Vanderbilt might turn up with eleven cripples, but the Vols would fold up like a card table. The Vols often went almost to the rim only to stumble over Vanderbilt.

Then came the period when most anyone kicked the Vols around.

THE MAJOR ARRIVES.

And after that came Major Bob.

"Tenuessee's 1930 football schedule announced yesterday is without an intersectional game. This is its most disappointing feature. If it had contained one strong foreign foe everybody would be happy and satisfied today, but it does not and so there is lots of criticism being made.

"An intersectional game with either Nebraska, Missouri, Harvard, Yale, Iowa, Army, Notre Dame, Carnegle Tech, or any such team, would place the Vols in a brighter spotlight than probably all of the conference games will.

"Why is it that other leading Southern conference elevens, whose records do not compare with that of Tennessee, can arrange intersectional games, and Tennessee an not?"

Today's Argentine reports were generally taken as confirming in a large degree some of the most extreme crop damage advices received here prior to the Argentine wheat harvest. The dispatches at hand today indicated that a great portion of the wheat in southern Buenos Aires province is turning out to be not much above chicken feed grades.

Prices for corn and oats were strengthened not only by wheat market advances, but also by unfavorable weather for movement of the corn crop and by a decided falling off in the volume of arrivals of corn here. Considerable notice was taken also of reports that corn yields in Ohio and Indiana are a big disappointment to growers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Stocks followed an part of the session but the decline met with resistance during the fourth hour which was followed by a brisk raily carrying leading issues above last night's close. NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The speculative deadlock responsible for the very inactive trading was broken in the last hour in favor of the constructive side. The recovery, however, was never anything more than a trading rally and yielded no indications that the path was again clear for any substantial general advance. The market seems to be werking into another trading range with the opposing factions unable to get beyond certain levels. Today's improvement seemed in part due to short covering to judge by the strength in United States Steel and certain other pivotal issues lately favored by the bear party. Besides Steel, General Electric, Radio, Westinghouse, American & Foreign Power, Standard Gas & Electric, Republic Iron &

JACKSON BROS., BOESEL & CO.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—We can state very positively that there has been a change of sentiment in certain very important quarters within the last 48 hours. This change represents a switch from a noncommital attitude to the constructive side of the market. We regard this development as important enough to warrant an increase in long commitments immediately.

It does not follow that the stock market will immediately take on a buoyant tone or that it will assume a fast pace with great velume. On the contrary, we do not look for an immediate large increase in volume or for a sharp broad upward turn. We do believe, however, that impertant accumulation of selected stocks will appear and it will be interesting to note which group of stocks will be singled out, for special attention.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Today's cotton market displayed the beat tone for the past several sessions of trading. The fact is a special attention.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The cotton market was steady during most of the day, holding gains of several points. There was somewhat better outside demand and after the first hour hedge selling was in less volume. Private ginning report of 13½ million bales was about as expected and had no effect on the market. Prices eased fof from the high during the late trading. Market closing fairly easy, about 5 points up.

H. & B. BEER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The market was dull and stocks moved slowly higher until just hefore 2 o'clock. At this time. United States Steel, Radio, American Can, American Foreign Power and other active stocks showed sudden strength, breaking through the top of recent trading ranges. From this point on, stocks moved easier and they closed up, many issues close to the best prices of the day. The performance of most stocks remained unimpressive.

We see no reason to get too enthusiastic about the market at this point. For several days we have reiterated that it did not seem probable that a serious break would develop here. It does not seem probable that any big advance will start from this point.

"Extremely Satisfactory"

That's what one of our policy-holders, the John Bean Mfg. Co., San Jose, Calif., a million dollar concern, wrote to another large manufacturer who asked for information about credit insurance.

"We consider American Credit Insurance as necessary as fire insurance," added the Bean Co. "We do not expect to have any claims, but carry it as a safeguard against the unexpected. The rates are not high when you consider the protection.

American Credit Insurance

"Even when we have had the unexpected happen of an assignment on a well-rated account, we have found that by immediately turning this over to the insurance company, they have been able to file our claims and follow the matter through better than we could, and have helped us avoid losses.

"The American Company has met all requirements we have needed, in the writing of our policy."

Full information about this much-praised protection and service sent to any interested Manufacturer or Jobber.

Cable advices from Manchester were published stating that the spinners of American cotton in Lancashire had decided to close their mills for 48 hours or a full week for the Christmas holidays instead of the usual 18 hours. Some such action had been anticipated in view of recent unfavorable trade reports, but the report may possibly have been a contributing factor on the afternoon reaction.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(P)—The stock market reached in a state of stagnation today such as had not been experienced in months. After a little more selling during the morning, a creeping rally set in, largely reflecting short covering, and several leading industrials and utilities closed with gains of 2 to 7 points. The market as a whole, however, was extremelly narrow, and the majority of shares fluctuated less than 2 points. Total sales were only 2.438,080 shares.

The sluggish trading was dominated by the cautious operations of a few professional traders, together with a moderate amount of year-end selling to establish losses for income tax purposes. Commission house board rooms were largely deserted save for an octational traders. There was nothing in the day's news to enliven the market. Traders generally were awaiting definite indications of the 1930 business trend. In view of past experience, a period of dull and sluggish markets is regarded as a moral development when the early technical adjustments of a severe market crash have been completed.

Attention remained focused on the gold export situation. It was reported that officials of the terasury and the federal reserve view the outflow of gold as a normal return of metal of gold as a normal return of metal attracted to this market during the recent period of high interest rates. Sterling slipped below the point at which gold may be profitably shipped, but in any case, further shipments would await the sailing of fast vessels at the end of the week.

standard by the Argentine govern-ment failed to influence the stocks of the few companies having large invest-credit conditions were basically firm, and bankers expected them to remain so for the remainder of the year. In the foreign exchanges, sterling cables sagged 3-32 to $4.88 5-32. The Argentine peso dropped about 11-2 cents on the virtual suspension of guld payments, and several other southern American exchanges were weak in sympathy.

NEW YORK. Dec. 17.—Raw sugar was less active today and no sales were reported. The recent purchases had evidently supplied the more immediate requirements of buyers and they showed little interest with duty frees said to be available at last paid prices, or 3.86 delivered. The sucar co-operative agency in Cuba reported sales of 1.500 tons for January shipment to foreign buyers at 1.75 f.o.b. Cubs. Operations in raw futures were mostly in the way of January liquidation or of exchanging from that position to later deliveries, with prices lower throughout the entire session. The opening was unchanged to 2 points lower and at one time prices were 2 to 6 points below the previous close under liquidation and selling by commission houses.

The increased offerings in the spot market was probably responsible for some of the selling, but toward the close there was a partial rally on covering and some Cuban buying with the market closing 1 to 4 points net lower. Approximate sales 35.200 tons, December closed 1.89; January 1.95; March 2.06; May 2.13; July 2.19; September 2.24.

As announced late yesterday all refiners accepted business today unchanged from the previous close, but at the close they advanced to 5.10 to 5.15 for fine granulated, A good business for both prompt and 30-day shipment was reported at the 5.00 level.

California celery was being sold at slightly lower prices. Tuesday, with the demand rather slow and trading dragy. The lettuce market is firm with a strong undergoe, with some dealers asking slightly higher prices on the five and six-dozen sizes; the lettuce market at shipping point continues; steady and good stock is demanding rather high prices, accounting for the strong position of the local market. Bean supplies are plentiful this week, with stock arriving in carlots, drop shipments by express, and increasing receipts by track from Morida points. Demand and trading on fancy beaus were slow this morning, motwithstanding that the market was weaker and fancy stock selling at lower prices. Cabbage supplies were light.

Some Leaders Find Support As Less Active Shares Slip

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL.

Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(R)—

Prices drifted about without direction in another dull session of the curb market today. Several of the leading shares, particularly among the utilities, were well supported, but about a dozen of the less active issues broke to new lows. Total sales were only $64,500 shares, compared to $36,800 yesterday.

Electric Bond and Share was in fair demand, gaining about 2 points, and American and Foreign Power warrants closed up 41-2. Insull Utility Investment gained a couple of points, and such issues as American Superpower, Associated Gas "A" and Middle West Utilities were steady.

In the investment trust group, Prince & Whitely sold up 1-2 point in response to payments of a special in response to payments of a special response to

On the opening day of this week the turnover on the New York Stock Exchange dropped to the smallest with one exception since midsummer and at the same time price declines occurred of from 5 to 15 points. Investigation disclosed that the large price declines on small volume, an unusual situation, was the result of small buying demand with widespread selling of stocks to establish losses for the year's income tax statement. Fancy yourself in the shoes of a certain man of Oldahoma when two wells which had been drilled on his farm began to gush oil at the rate of a half million

You would say, no doubt, that our friend was in luck. But wait!.... One day the sheriff served notice of a legal action contesting his title to the wells.

In 1922, he had purchased the farm at Sheriff's sale; foreclosure was brought against a widow who inherited the land from her husband, under the condition that she remain a widow,-otherwise the farm became the property of the children.

The children, who were not parties to the foreclosure, sued. The court held that, as the mother's widowhood terminated by death, she had only a life estate. So our friend lost the half million dollars a year.

An attorney passed the title, but his interpretation of the law was incorrect. He should have protected his opinion by requiring title insurance.

30 Used Cars

FOR LOCAL DEALER

December 17, 1929.

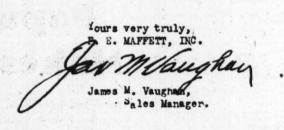

Atlanta Constitution, Classified Adv. Dept., Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen:

I am taking this opportunity to advise you of the results we obtained from the Used Car advertisement we run in your paper Friday December 6th.

On the above mentioned date we advertised 30 used cars at a price, 12 of these cars were sold in one day and during the 3 day sale we sold 27 of them, in addition to effecting 9 other deliveries that we attribute directly to this advertismenet.

The cars represented real values but the results obtained show that the public certainly does read your used car adds.

READ THIS LETTER AND PROFIT BY THE EXPERIENCE OF THOSE WHO FIND THAT THE CONSTITUTION ALONE WILL COVER THE FIELD AND DO A MOST COM-PLETE SELLING JOB.

EW HUNTER AND JERRY MOORE CAME DOWN TO THE HOUSEBOAT WITH ME TODAY. THE SNOW HAD DRIFTED AND PILED UP ON OUR FRONT PORCH. LEW TOLD JERRY AND I TO SHOVEL A PATH THROUGH THE SNOW. WHICH WE DID.

SON OF TARZAN

In the heart of the jungle, hidden away on the banks of an unexplored river, lay a small, heavily palisaded village. Twenty palm-thatched huts sheltered its black population; a half dozen goatskin tents housed a few Arabs who lived here while collecting the cargoes their camel trains bore twice each year to the markets of Timbuktu. Before one of these tents played a little black-haired, black-eyed pretty girl, some ten years of age.

Funeral Notices

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17.—(P)—
A lawyer's office at Gretna across the river from New Orleans, was turned into an improvised fortress today by Charles Adamski, 63; who withstood arrest by exchanging shots with deputy sheriffs until he fell wounded with three bullets in the abdomen.

He had gone to the office of Contard A. Buchler, former district attorney of Jefferson parish, to collect money he said was due him but when the lawyer failed to pay he opened fire with a revolver. Miss Etta Lasseigne, stenographer, ran for her life, closely followed by Buchler, who rushed into the corridor shouting he had been shot.

The shouts brought deputy sheriffs but Adamski slammed the door, barricaded himself behind desks and exchanged more than 20 shots with the officers. A call was sent out for tear gas bombs but before they arrived some one crawled on a fire escape and brought him down with three quicks.
